A Letter from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Winter RUNWAY 2016. As we bring in the New Year I like to thank all the readers and TV viewers for getting your media from RUNWAY. The holidays are one of my favorite times to see fashion because fans wear it in a good mood. It's the time of the year to dress to impress, and most important to appreciate the people and things in our life that keeps the day to day going. They say art and music can help people by allowing them to access parts of their minds which release endorphins, so get out their and put people in a good mood with your holiday look.

As always I like to thank Julia Perry, and of course Jacob Meir for doing all the heavy lifting in our fashion department. I like to thank my mother Cathy who has always been there for me and new boyfriend Robyn who makes sure someone is there for her while I'm in Hollywood.

Lastly we are launching app RUNWAY LUX in Los Angeles as we go into the Spring music issue, get ready for high end room service to anywhere in the world and a great new way to read RUNWAY and watch RUNWAY TV.

Happy Holidays!

Running for Health

by Agostina Lanari

There are NO EXCUSES when it comes to running. You don't need any gear, equipment, or even clothes for that matter. When I travel, I always leave space in my suitcase for a good pair of sneakers and some comfortable Nike pants or shorts. Takes no space and I know that I will feel AMAZING after.

Now, if you ask me, if I was traveling to Jamaica or a tropical place i wouldn't bring any sneakers because running at the beach is amazing and its actually proven to build up strength in your feet. It is also harder than running on pavement or on the treadmill and you BURN MORE CALORIES!! If you are new to running in the sand, just make sure you dont go all out and start slowly to prevent injuries, and WEAR SUNBLOCK!

Always wear sunblock!

Something to also keep in mind, it's easier to run on firm sand than in dry soft sand.

So, there you have it. You have no excuses. No matter where you go, YOU CAN RUN.

Why do we run?
Why do you run?
Why do I run?

I, personally, love to run. It's my time alone. It's my sanctuary. Everything that happens during that run is only mine. It's where I put all my thoughts together. It's where i think about my next move. It's where i motivate myself. It's sometimes selfish and it takes me away from all the worries and stress of my day to day life. When I am sad, it makes me happy and when I am happy, it makes me HAPPIER. It's like a positive addiction. You may not have the same relationship with my friend running that I have, and that's ok. You can either learn to love it or you can just have a hate/love relationship but I can guarantee you, I've never heard anybody say: I feel bad after that run.

Besides burning loads of calories, running is one of the best exercises you can do to improve and maintain your health. Speed up your pace you and can challenge yourself. It also improves your cardiovascular condition.

Some other running benefits/tips:

Weight Loss

Running burns more calories per minute than any other form of cardiovascular exercise. Like it or not, this is the truth. It is also, besides from cross-country skiing, one the top exercises to burn fat. Just make sure that you are burning more calories than you consume. You can run a lot and not lose weight. It all comes down to how many calories you consume. Remember to have a deficit of calories consumed and calories burned to notice weight loss. Running also raises HDL cholesterol levels, which is the good cholesterol, and reduces the risks of blood cloths. And that's not all! It also reduces the risk of heart attacks because it strengthens your heart and lowers blood pressure.

Mental Relief

Running has been proven to improve attitude as well as helping you with stress. Running or jogging creates a release of endorphins. These can cause euphoria and happiness. How awesome is that? Now you probably understand where the term "Runners High" comes from.

Keeps you young

What if I WERE to tell you that instead of getting all those injections to keep yourself looking young, you could save your money and spare yourself the pain? Go on a run instead! Running makes you look and feel younger.

Running shoes

If you are going to run often you need good shoes. It is very important to invest in a good shoe. Most running stores will help you find what type of shoe suits your running style.

Run for the fun of it or....

If you just want to start running, you should follow a walk/run program. This way you will combine walking and running until you reach your running goals without causing injury or overuse. Always make sure you warm up, stretch, and cool down, not only when running but also when doing cross training and strength training.

AND REMEMBER!!!!!!

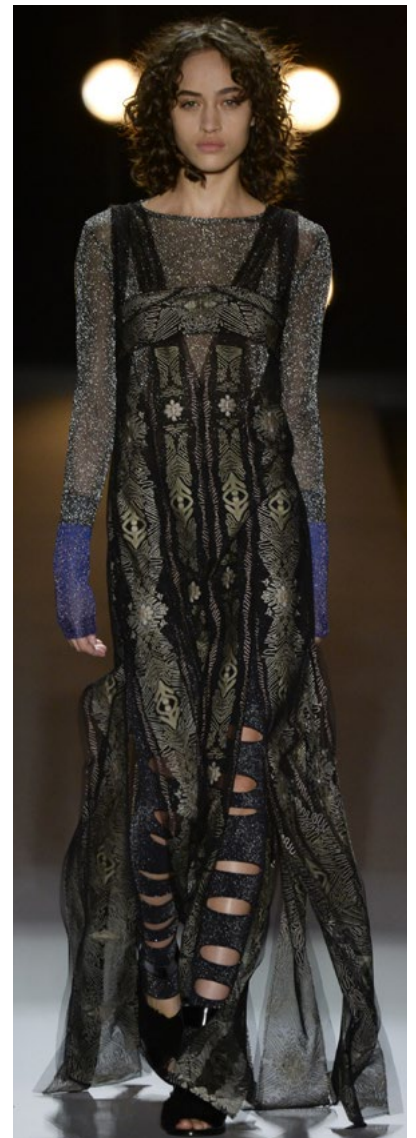

If you run, you are runner. it doesn't matter how fast or where you are running, what matters is that no matter where you are at you are waking up, lacing up your Nikes and going out the door.

What are you working on now?

Right now, I'm just in Los Angeles wrapping up press for Sweet/Vicious for the year so I can head back to England for Christmas! I'm really excited to be back with my family and take some time to just be home and in one place for a while. My family are big on Christmas and my sister and I still behave like 8 year olds on Christmas morning.

We all loved you in Nanny McPhee and Inkheart what was it like to grow up in the entertainment industry?

I was very lucky that I had a great experience but I know it's not always that way. Nanny McPhee was just a dream; we worked with animals all day and Emma Thompson would order ice cream trucks to set (I learnt fast that ice cream trucks are not a given on every set!). With Inkheart, I was 14 which I think can be an age where you can start to think you're the bees knees if with the wrong company, but I was fortunate to work with people like Helen Mirren and Andy Serkis, incredibly kind and gracious actors that gave me a great example to look up to. Most importantly I'm blessed with an incredible family that kept me grounded. I grew up as a 'child star' but my parents made sure I was back in school as much as possible and in my exam years, I barely worked so I managed to retain some level of normality.

Who inspired you?

I really remember the first time I ever saw Natalie Portman's performance in Leon: The Professional. I was blown away by her. I'd never seen a performance from someone that young with that much depth of emotion and she drives the film from start to finish. I think it stuck with me because the news is so often filled with stories of great child actors going off the rails and she was an example of someone who managed to make that transition with grace and dignity and still be an incredible talent.

How do you feel your fashion changed as you evolved?

Well the moment I stopped being a teenager, my fashion sense got so much better. My priorities changed from wanting boys to like me to wanting to like myself. We used to all dress the same, body-con dresses and fake eyelashes were the staple look. I really love fashion now and I love picking an outfit based on my mood that morning, but I'd say generally I'm attracted to interesting cuts and fabrics/textures and anything that looks chic.

Who are your favorite red carpet designers?

Elie Saab, Dior, Oscar De La Renta, Marc Jacobs to name but a few.

What do you wear at home?

Sweats or pajamas if given the option.

What are your favorite shoes?

I have a this pair of pointed, slightly platformed, crocodile print electric blue flats that I wear all the time. They are from Finery London, their shoes are amazing. I'm obsessed.

How do you relax?

I love having game nights with my friends. Currently a few of my friends and I are obsessed with this game called CodeNames. I keep thinking we are going to get bored of it, but we've played it hundreds of times now and it's still so good. Game nights are the best to laugh and spend time with friends without having to leave the comfort of your home, who could ask for more?!

Any advice to aspiring young talent?

The industry is pretty fickle and there are huge highs and lows, so make sure your happiness and identity are rooted in the 'success' of your career. Know your values and identity and then work your ass off so you can't look back and wish you had done more.

CARLY HUGHES

You have an amazing voice, where did you learn to sing?

Thank you! I've kind of been singing since I learned to talk. Haha. It's a talent I've been blessed with, that I have learned about and strengthened over the years. I sang in choir in elementary and all the groups in high school, and took my first voice lesson in college. Then learned the most from being out in the field, if you will, on Broadway, from the numerous talents and legends I've been fortunate enough to work with. I've been lucky, working on shows that really stretched & challenged me, both creatively & vocally.

How did Broadway come into your life?

When you graduate with a B. F. A. in Musical Theatre, it's (fingers crossed) the natural progression. I grew up watching golden age musicals on VHS tapes, thinking "how fun would it be to do that for a living!" But not really knowing that it was attainable for me. I didn't see my first Broadway show till my last year of high school, and was instantly like "ooohhhh, so people do do this for a living?!" Lol

Who are your favorite designers?

Christian Louboutin (need him in my life!) , Christian Siriano, Alice & Olivia, Zac Posen, Cushnie et Ochs, Kate Spade...

Any items in your closet you can't live without?

SHOES. All my shoes. They can turn even the simplest outfit into something amazing. I like that I'm known for what shoes I wear. Makes it worth buying the pairs that I have!

What is your schedule like, are you a morning or a night person?

Night person all the way! Me and mornings are occasional acquaintances... The night and I are best friends. I can't get home and jump in the bed, I like to wind down and relax in my space.

Do you have any pets?

No. But I'm probably going to get myself a puppy for Christmas :) I've wanted one for a while.

What do you do in your free time?

I really like to cook. Cooking is just another form of being creative. It's fun, relaxing, and I love feeding my friends! I also LOVE movies! Going to the movies, renting on my Apple TV, watching Netflix. A couch, a good movie, and a glass of wine....

Who inspires you?

My dad, with all he's been through, he's still going strong with faith and love.

Do you have any advice for aspiring talent?

Know what you do, and do what you know. Don't waste time trying to be an imitation of someone else, no matter how talented that "someone else" may be. Be confident in the fact that no one else can do what you do, that's what makes you unique.

Sierra McClain

Hello Sierra,
you looked amazing on your
RUNWAY shoot today.

Thank you so much!! I was in love with a couple of those pieces.

What was your favorite look?

I'd have to say the red dress was my favorite look overall for sure. The clean makeup, the art in the back, white walls, paint splattered ladder. My favorite, hands down.

Tell us what your favorite things in your closet are?

My sweatshirts, sweatpants and my favorite pair of combat boots.

Are you a shoe fan?

Somewhat! It's funny because I have several pairs of heels in my closet, but I really only wear one pair.

What is like shooting a typical episode of Empire? What is your schedule like?

It depends on how heavy Nessa is in the episode! But if she's in it quite a bit or has a musical number, then it's table read, fittings, a studio session at some point, and a few shoot days! So it can get kind of busy.

What is the funniest thing to ever happen to you on set?

Ah man! There have been some good moments on set, but one of the funniest moments was probably during the very first episode of filming when I was performing "Need Freedom." During one of the takes, Terrence came onstage and started singing backup with me, and I was doing a good job of playing along until X, (Xzibit), came onstage and started doing that new age running man. I couldn't hold it, I completely broke!

What kind of music do you listen too?

R&B, Hip Hop, Urban music mostly. Old school classics as well! Babyface, D'angelo, Lauryn Hill, 80's and 90's music. But I have a plethora of music on my playlist, that's just what I listen to the most.

What is your favorite movie?

Love and Basketball. I love Black Loveee.

What is your favorite color?

Any earth tone!

What are your favorite red carpet designers?

To be honest, I'm just now sort of getting into that stuff. I haven't been super big on brand names. I literally only shop at my local mall and Target. That'll probably change once I start looking into it little bit though!

How about some advice to aspiring talent?

Be head over heels in love and committed to your craft. Study. Practice. Don't just work on the technical side, work on trusting yourself and your instincts and completely giving over to what it is that you want to do for the rest of your life.

What have you been up to?

This year has been super busy for me. I am currently working with my uncle Marlon on his new upcoming show and I have a few more projects in store. I feel like 2016 has been a very pivotal year for myself and my career so I can't wait to see all the hard work from this year pay off next year.

What was it like growing up in the Wayans family?

It's just as funny as you would imagine... actually probably funnier. It really taught me to just laugh things off and never take myself too seriously.

What are your favorite designers?

Gucci has definitely been killing it for me recently, but I also love Burberry, Lanvin, Chanel and YSL.

Tell me about your favorite pair of shoes?

They're my new Gucci Princetown leather loafers, they're so comfortable because they have fur inside and they're more like slippers than shoes but they're also super chic obviously since they're Gucci and they have flames on them so they're also a little edgy, basically my dream shoes.

What kind of music do you like?

I love all kinds of music it really just depends on my mood. I've really been loving the weekend and Gucci Mane's new albums.

Any advice to your fans?

I don't really like to think I have "fans" per say but to anyone who might look up to me I would just say to remember that everything happens for a reason and to just remember to have fun and live for yourself.

NAKED PRINCESS

RUNWAY ROMANCE

A woman with long, wavy brown hair is sitting on a bed covered with a light blue, textured blanket. She is wearing a black, strapless, lace bodysuit with a sweetheart neckline and a fitted bodice. She is also wearing a wide, sparkling bracelet on each wrist. The room is elegantly decorated with a large window to the left, draped with heavy, patterned curtains. A large, ornate mirror with a gold frame is on the wall behind her, reflecting the room. A small, framed painting of a cherub is hanging above the mirror. A white, ornate vase sits on a table in front of the mirror. The lighting is warm and dramatic, highlighting the woman and the textures of the room.

1. Zermatt

Zermatt, Valais

RUNWAY's top Swiss Alp destination and its no wonder. When most people think of Zermatt, they think of one thing: The Matterhorn. This ultimate Swiss icon looms over Zermatt. Visitors have been coming here since the 1860s. The village of Zermatt itself is charming and auto-free, with horse drawn carriages, old-fashioned brown chalets and winding alleys.

2. Avoriaz

Avoriaz, Haute-Savoie

This is a great place for the young and the young at heart. Once again no cars are aloud and the transporation is mainly horse drawn, This is the spot if you also want to enjoy so good night life.

3. Megeve

Megeve, Haute-Savoie

Stop number two has Luxury Shopping, a quiet village and is a great place for romance.

The skiing is basic and great for beginners. This is one of the better places to take the whole family. Famous artists used to go there.

Among them: Jean Cocteau

4. Les Arcs

Les Arcs, Bourg Saint Maurice, Savoie

This is the diverse place to stop. Les Arcs is composed of five villages: Bourg Saint Maurice; Les Arcs 1600; Les Arcs 1800; Les Arcs 1950; Les Arcs 2000, all which vary in altitude. There are many types of landscape and architecture to observe here. Depending on the weather you can always find some good snow.

5. Chamonix

Chamonix, Haute-Savoie

This is the place of legends. The resort is part of the highest mountain in France: Le Mont-blanc. This place is best known for its exciting high mountain ski. IT is also a place of great non-fiction; the monster created by Frankenstein went there to hide from men.

6. Champéry

Champéry, Portes du Soleil, Valais

This charming little village in Switzerland is connected to one of the biggest ski area in Europe, Les Portes du Soleil. The selection for slope is immense as you can go an entire day and never see the same slope twice. You can also ski to Avroiaz, in France.

7. Leysin

Leysin, Vaud

This is a small resort close to Lausanne and Montreux. The slopes are not extreme but it is a nice place to bring the teenagers. The most popular time of the year here is actually in the summer for the music festival.

8. Crans Montana

Crans-Montana, Valais

This resort claims to be on the sunniest plateau in the Alps, and indeed the snow is often lacking, but the views are amazing. Crans-Montana actually comprises two ski resorts, Crans-sur-Sierre and Montana-Vermala, although for all intents and purposes, they function as one. Popular with affluent Italians, the skiing is good especially for beginners, but the shopping, eating and drinking are worth traveling here for.
