A Letter from the Editor-in-Chief

This summer season has been especially difficult for us here at RUNWAY magazine. Covid has affected all facets of the fashion industry. We have lost many dear friends including our fashion director Julia Perry's mother, Catherine Perry, on August 1st of this year after a brief battle with cancer. Catherine was an inspiration to all who knew her. Her strength, style and grace were an example to all, to never give up on your dreams and values, like we follow here at RUNWAY in all that we do.

Our hearts go out to all of the families that have lost a loved one during this time. We decided that it would be best to take a moment of silence this summer and dedicate this issue to all of the lives that have been tragically lost. Therefore, our summer 2020 issue is much shorter than usual and our cover features a model wearing a fashion mask.

Please tune into RUNWAY TV.com and check out the latest shows. We are excited about our fall 2020 issue, which will be out soon. Feel free to drop us an email if you would like to participate in future RUNWAY's. Everyone is welcome here.

Thank you as always,

Vincent Midnight

The mask line was created in May to help support the ongoing donation projects I was working on with other designers in L.A. We still needed to raise funds to finish off the sewing and I was asked by a Doctor at Cedars to make some scrub caps, so another GoFundMe was launched. To date, the company has donated over 4500 pieces. The masks are made at people's homes who lost their jobs and donate a thank you scrub cap with every purchase.

I wanted to inject some fun and glamour into this horrible time we are going through and make people want to wear masks. By no means am I making light of the situation, but my approach has always been one to uplift with humor.
